We at GNIMS understand significance of welcoming our students wholeheartedly while launching new batch. We believe that induction is an integral component of the academic culture. Induction is critical process when you take on a new batch. Induction gives the new students an objective view of the institute, its academic culture, faculty, pedagogy which allows the students to better integrate into the institute's atmosphere.

Prof. Lalita Paranjape conducted a session for the new students on why communication is considered the heart of every organization. Everything we do in the workplace results from communication. Therefore good reading, writing, speaking and listening skills are essential, if tasks need to be completed and goals achieved. As we develop our careers, we find various reasons why successful communication skills are important for our growth.
